

Underworld At Rock Island In War; Three Die

Total Of Victims In Several Months Now Seven—May Call Militia To Restore Normal Conditions To City

By Associated Press
Rock Island, Ill.—Policemen James Green and Edward Minor and Robert Scott, a Negro, are dead as a result of a gun battle, Sunday night in an underworld Negro dope den. The policemen sought to stop a quarrel between Scott and his wife that was disturbing neighbors. Scott turned his gun on the officers when they entered his place. Green was killed instantly and Minor and Scott died after being removed to a hospital.

The three latest deaths bring the toll of lives lost in underworld warfare in the city in a few months to seven and the Billburg and Looney gangs still are vowing vengeance upon each other. Looney, whose son was slain in a street battle between underworld factions, is barricaded in his home surrounded night and day by several armed guards.

Anthony Billburg charged with being leader of the gang that killed young Looney is at large on $20,000 bonds.

Feeling is running high at the seeming inability of the police to make the city safe and it may yet be necessary to call for state troops to restore normal conditions in the city.

OTHERS REPORT GLAND THEFTS

By Associated Press
Chicago — Police and the Chicago Medical society, aiding in the investigation, still were baffled Monday by the mystery surrounding the city's gland robbery.

At least two men were known to have been scheduled to operations in which glands were removed from their bodies. Both said they were kidnapped, mutilated and left on the street.

In some respects the two cases differed widely. Joseph Wozniak, 34, one of the victims, lost one gland through an operation which medical men said was the work of an expert surgeon.

Harry Johnson, an employee of the city electrical department, whose loss of glands was double that of Wozniak, was mutilated by an amateur, according to surgeons.

Thomas J. O'Grady, Democratic representative in the general assembly, announced he would introduce a bill next winter for drastic measures against the potential menace of "gland bandits."

GREETING TO IOWA SQUAD OUTDOES ARMISTICE GLEE

By Associated Press
Iowa City — Iowa's victorious football team was given a reception upon its arrival here at 4:30 o'clock Monday from New Haven where it defeated Yale 6 to 0, that outlasted the demonstration which greeted the armistice announcement four years ago.

A crowd estimated at 7,000 including approximately 6,000 students, was at the station to welcome the homecoming heroes but was disappointed. Before the crowd of enthusiastic Iowans knew what had happened, Coach Howard H. Jones had his team loaded into a truck and spirited away to their rooms. Only a few of thousands on hand even saw the players.

The heroes are scheduled to make their first formal appearance shortly after noon when they are to be the guests of the Iowa City Commercial club. Following this reception the team will be taken to Iowa field for practice for the Illinois game, Iowa's first Big Ten foe.

HUNTING SEASON CLAIMS FIRST VICTIM OF SEASON

By Associated Press
Green Bay—The hunting season claimed its first victim of the season here Sunday when Henry Huisenfeldt, 29, a farmer living in the town of Rockland, near here was accidentally killed by the discharge of his shotgun.

According to the position of the dead body, it is believed that Huisenfeldt, who was hunting rabbits, jumped on a brush pile in an effort to scare one when his gun was accidentally discharged, blowing his head completely off. The victim was alone, but was found a few minutes later by another hunter.

DECIDE WHETHER TO SUPPORT GEORGE TODAY

By Associated Press
London—The conservative members of the government have been summoned to meet Monday to decide whether they shall continue support of the coalition under the leadership of the Prime Minister Lloyd George. The meeting which was called by Austen Chamberlain, lord privy seal and government leader in the house of commons will include not only the conservatives in the cabinet but also the under secretaries belonging to the party.

"Copette" At Racine Quits; Tongues Wag

By Associated Press
Chicago—Mrs. Alma Longgale erst-while "strong woman" of the vaudeville stage and more recently police-woman at Racine, Wis., is leaving that city, she declared Monday, the victim of persecution.

Prominent businesswomen of Racine have been mentioned in anonymous charges incident to Mrs. Longgale's departure. As she prepared to leave Racine Mrs. Longgale vigorously denied that she has made her home a rendezvous for businessmen and girls as charged in mysterious telephone calls and unsigned messages which have some Racine wives up in arms.

Mrs. Longgale said that vaudeville pictures of her costumed in a leopard skin had been distributed by her enemies.

"The charge is true that Mr. Longgale, who left town last Easter had not been divorced from his first wife when he married me," she said. "But I was innocent of any knowledge of the first wife's existence and so cannot be blamed for that."

Racine—Although many unsubstantiated rumors followed in the wake of the resignation of Mrs. Alma Longgale, former police-woman of this city, no formal charges were made against her at the time. It was said her withdrawal from the police service was due to a physical breakdown.

WHIP KANSAS MAYOR; BLAME KU KLUX KLAN

Rented Hall To Speaker Who Denounced Unit Is Only Known Cause

Coffeyville, Kans. — Theodore Schierman 42, mayor of Liberty, a city of the third class, 8 miles north of Coffeyville, was taken to a lonely place on a roadside four miles north-east of Liberty Saturday night and whipped with black snake whips by a mob of 15 men who said they were members of the Ku Klux Klan. Schierman told officers Sunday. The men traveled in three motor cars.

Schierman has a wife and three children. He has been mayor of the town of Liberty for 18 months and has been a resident of the community for 40 years.

Schierman owns the hall where Walter Keith, a Coffeyville attorney, who is a candidate for district judge made a speech one night last week. Keith severely attacked the Klan as un-American and it is understood that this was a direct cause of the assault on Schierman. His neighbors say he has not been particularly offensive in his denunciation of the Klan.

TAKE UP RETURN OF TROOPS IN GERMANY

By Associated Press
Washington — Return of the American forces in Germany which recently has taken up again for consideration by war department officials was discussed Monday with President Harding by Secretary Weeks. The impression was given after the conference that return of the American troops, who now number about 1,200 was not unlikely within a comparatively short time.

World Tourists

Australians, Touring Around the World, Stop in Alicia Park for Night.

Alicia park has served as a hostelry for many tourists this summer, there being only two evenings when no guests were served. Tourists have passed through here for distant destinations and coming from distant cities.

But the record for long distance touring was made Saturday evening, when Jack J. Deere and Stanley G. White, stopped off here on their way from Australia. They are making what appears to be a round-the-globe tour. When they arrived at San Francisco and bought a Ford, which they had built over. They took the Yellowstone trail for New York, which accounts for their stop at Appleton. They resumed their trip early Sunday morning.

Tribute was paid Wisconsin for having the best road marking system and also the best roads they have encountered.

BAMBERGER IS FAVORITE OF UTAH VOTERS

If Elected Will Be First Jew In Senate Since Death of Rayner

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1922 by Post Publishing Co.
Salt Lake City—Utah's trend at the moment is toward the election of Ernest Bamberger, Republican, to succeed Senator Will King Democrat, who six years ago defeated George Sutherland, now associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States.

Senator King won by 25,000 majority in 1916 and is still quite popular in the state but a peculiar combination of circumstances may turn the tables on him this autumn. For one thing the Mormons have made up their minds that it is not a good thing for Utah to be represented in the United States Senate by two Mormons. Both Senators King and Smoot are members of the Mormon church.

DIVIDE HONORS
Even before the primaries and convention which gave Ernest Bamberger the Republican nomination, a well defined movement developed among the Mormons that it would be a good idea to divide the senatorial representation very much as has been the case for years with the governorship and the mayoralty. With few exceptions, the mayor of Salt Lake City has been a non Mormon and the governor has been a Mormon. Recently Simon Bamberger, a Democrat and an uncle of the Republican nominee for the United States senate, served a term as governor but it was his immense popularity which broke the rule of electing Mormons to that office.

Ernest Bamberger is a member of a Jewish family of distinction which has had a great deal to do with the upbuilding of Utah. If elected to the senate, he will be the first Jew to sit in the senate since the death of Isador Rayner, senator from Maryland.

To the extent that Ernest Bamberger was a non Mormon his qualifications for the Republican nomination were not disputed but it is a fact that his selection caused a ruction in the Republican party. Others sought the nomination who were thought more deserving from a party viewpoint.

Mr. Bamberger as Republican county committee man had the opportunity to build up a good organization. It wasn't so much any objection to Bamberger as to the group of Republicans who were opposed to the convention and caused a feeling. Fortunately for the Republican outlook, the other faction of the party which didn't believe in machine politics had the chance in the primaries for legislative ticket to administer a good drubbing to the other wing and there is a more harmonious feeling now than days ago when Republicans were openly saying they would vote the Democratic ticket. But if friction developed in the selection of a Republican nominee it was no less pronounced in the case of the Democratic party. Before Senator King got back from Washington, there was all sorts of talk of selecting somebody else but when the senator with his powers of oratory and persuasion got on the job, he just stamped the convention.

Senator Smoot, Republican, is a big factor in the campaign. From his activity, one would think he is running, too. He is more popular today than he ever has been since he went to the senate many years ago. For one thing, as a member of the all powerful senate finance committee, he saw that Utah's interests in the Fordney-McCumber tariff law were well protected. He has the confidence of the business element and the respect of the entire Mormon population. He is known in Utah as a hard worker and as one who rarely fails to answer at once the letters of his constituents.

Mr. Smoot is aware of his strength and is capitalizing it to the advantage of Ernest Bamberger. He is saying for instance, "If you approve of what I have done in the senate, give me a vote of confidence by sending to the senate a man to vote, as I do, for the best interest of Utah, etc." This plea will have considerable effect.

Senator King is a remarkably good campaigner and will manage to emphasize Republican sins of omission and commission. He hasn't the benefit of the wave of Wisconsin which in 1916 helped the senatorial candidates all along the line. The Democratic state ticket this year isn't a particularly strong one. If Mr. King wins, it will be due solely to his own efforts for he has behind him little or no momentum of party, nothing but a sizeable personal following. As the situation looks today, his opponent is gaining steadily and the Democrats may lose a seat in the senate.

LASH FOR VIOLATORS OF BONE DRY EDICT OF TURKS

Constantinople — Total prohibition of alcoholic drinks, one of the tenets of the Mohammedan religion, will be applied throughout eastern Thrace as soon as the Kemalists authorities are installed, according to dispatches received by the local newspapers from Angora, seat of the Turkish national government. The same rule will be applied to Constantinople, immediately after the Kemalists occupation of the capital it was announced, and those violating the law will be liable to punishment consisting of 49 lashes, three months in prison and a fine of from 60 to 300 Turkish pounds, according to a report here Monday.

HOOVER WIRES HARD COAL ON WAY TO STATE

Special Attention Being Given To Lake States, He Tells Blaine

By Associated Press
Madison—Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, wired Governor J. J. Blaine Monday that he was giving special consideration to the hard coal situation particularly as it concerns shipments to the territory of the lake states.

He advised the governor that 27,000 tons of anthracite had just been shipped to Wisconsin ports other than Milwaukee as a start of a larger program of distribution.

C. E. Spens, federal fuel distributor in a message to P. H. Pressentin, secretary of the Wisconsin coal committee, said that he was personally investigating the hard coal situation in the lake states. He said a survey of the dumping capacity of docks at Erie and Buffalo was being made to determine if it is sufficient to handle the large amounts of coal that will have to be shipped. If insufficient the federal official said that he would at once consider increased movement of hard coal by rail.

Concerning prices of coal, Mr. Spens said that information would be sent later.

GASOLINE STOVE CAUSES HOME FIRE

Passenger Train Delays Arrival Of Two Trucks At Levi Buman Residence

Fire caused by a defective gasoline stove damaged the basement of the Levi Buman residence, 1151 Elsie St., Monday morning. One partition was burned away partially before the department could extinguish the blaze.

Mrs. Buman lit the burners of the stove preparatory to heating water for laundering and went upstairs for a few moments. When she returned the basement was so full of smoke she could not enter and a fire alarm was turned in. The loss was not great.

Two motor vehicles of the department were held up at College-ave. crossing by the 7:37 southbound passenger train. The first two vehicles got across before the train reached the crossing. Frank Murphy, flagman, said it was his first experience in having to flag any portion of the fire department in the four years he has been stationed at College-ave. crossing.

BUSINESS DEPRESSION ANCIENT HISTORY, HE SAYS

By Associated Press
Chicago — Paper manufacturers and news publishers were arriving here Monday with the declaration of W. F. Raybold of Housatonic, Mass., president American Paper and Pulp association, that "the business depression is rapidly becoming ancient history."

As the keynote of the gatherings incident to the fourth annual paper week. Sessions begin Tuesday.

A decision on the question of eliminating publications of free circulation from membership and the desirability of admitting outdoor and other forms of advertising to the Audit Bureau of Circulations will be major topics before that organization.

LABOR BOARD ESTABLISHES 8-HOUR DAY FOR YARD MEN

Chicago—An eight hour day with overtime which is said to amount to nearly a 25 per cent increase in pay were granted approximately 2,600 yardmasters on 26 class one railroads and at six switching terminals by the United States Railroad Labor board Monday. This is the first time the board has established rules and working conditions for yardmasters who now are classified as subordinate officials and subject to the board's jurisdiction under the transportation act.

Riga—It was announced here Monday that Leonid Krassin has resigned as Soviet minister of trade and commerce.

MAUDE ADAMS IS INVENTOR

New York—After three years of experimenting, Maude Adams, noted actress is ready to present for practical use an invention designed to permit the showing of motion pictures without dimming the theater lights, according to a report here Monday.

SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL

The following platform has been announced by Judge Henry Graess, Green Bay, Progressive Republican Independent candidate for election to congress from the Ninth district:

A PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN—I have ever endeavored to stand by the people and for the people in my public life of 25 years. I favored and advocated:

The Primary Election Law; Election of U. S. Senators by direct vote; The Anti-Pass Law; The Woman Suffrage Law; the Income Tax Law; the Railroads to pay taxes on their physical valuation; the Inheritance Tax Law.

THE FARMER—The Farmer is the source of the production of this country. Before the country can be prosperous, the farmer, first of all must prosper.

He has probably suffered more since the war than anyone else. He has received the lowest prices for his produce and been compelled to pay the highest for what he buys or builds.

The injustice of the situation is manifest and for years farmers have been used and made the tool of unscrupulous politicians.

A substantial reduction in freight rates to which the country is entitled will bring some relief. The Farmers' Equity Farm Bureau, and Co-operative organizations have done good, and, under liberal laws, are capable of securing more and better results. I unhesitatingly favor legislation whose object is to secure to the farmer the fullest fruit of his labor.

LABOR—Labor has the clear right to join hands and form its union. I have always advocated and have always been a firm believer in Labor Unions, and the right of Collective Bargaining. I stand for the absolute protection of the Rights of Labor, without impairment of the just rights of capital.

Labor resorts to a strike when dissatisfied, or as a means to secure its aims. We have too many strikes. Laborers are not always to blame, and sometimes labor agitators are. Unjustifiable strikes are condemned by the better, conservative labor leader and worker as it brings loss and hardship on both labor and capital. This is more of an economic problem than it is social. It has not been solved by legislation. It cannot be solved by the open shop, or by the injunction. Both have been tried and neither has brought a solution. Employers recognize this. If it is possible for employers and employees to agree without government agency, agreement between them must be permitted. Frank, open discussion across the table will settle many disputes, but when peaceful efforts fail, some means should be devised to effect a settlement through disinterested parties. Some weapon as effective as the strike should be given labor, which will not bring the strike's losses.

THE TARIFF—The tariff should not be used as a political football. It is a commercial question. As political parties and legislators succeed each other in power—their ideas of a just, equitable tariff, change. I believe it should be fixed on the scientific basis of

START PROBE INTO BURNING OF SEA LINER

Transport Thomas Reaches Los Angeles With Scantily Clad Refugees

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—The transport Thomas as bearing the crew and passengers of the burned steamship City of Honolulu was in Los Angeles harbor early Monday the passengers awaiting the usual health inspection before being permitted to come ashore. A federal board to investigate the burning of the City of Honolulu also expected to interview the passengers before permitting them to land.

When the Thomas dropped anchor, the rescued passengers and crew from the City of Honolulu lined the rails, clad in garments varying from uniforms of field officers borrowed from army officers aboard the transport, to blankets covering a few underegarments.

Tugs and speed boats circle the Thomas and calls for fresh fruit, to hacco and numerous other small comforts were soon supplied.

Most of the passengers and crew were on deck when the Thomas drew in, but when they learned they could not be brought ashore until Monday they went to their berths. This taken with the difficulty of interviewing them from small boats, made connected statements from any of them unavailable. They all seemed in good spirits, however.

It was reported that the exposure they had suffered had left no marks upon them.

UNCLE SAM BANS OLD CHANTICLEER FROM MAILS

Washington — The old barnyard rooster can not travel by United States mail but day old chicks according to postoffice department announcement Monday, still may be shipped from place to place provided their journey may be completed within 72 hours. Moreover these chicks may be insured against loss but not against death. Harmless live animals, rated as inoffensive and not requiring food or water in transit may go by mail, along with baby terrapins, soft shell crabs, blood worms and chameleons. Under new regulations live alligators 1 to 20 inches in length are the only live alligators Uncle Sam will handle.

CHARGE 'PHONE WIRE TO HALL HOME TAPPED

Officials Deny They Had Listened In To Talk Of Slain Pastor's Widow

By Associated Press
New Brunswick, N. J.—A charge that the telephone belonging to Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall, whose husband was slain with Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, choir leader in the church of which he was rector, has been tapped, was the latest development Monday in the investigation of the double murder.

This charge was made by Sally Peters, who lives in the Hall household. She said that no important calls now are being made over it. County and state investigators professed ignorance of any wire tapping.

A similar charge was made by Ralph V. M. Gorsline, vestryman of the church of St. John the Evangelist, who at one time was questioned as to his whereabouts on the night of the murder. Mr. Gorsline declared he was not greatly concerned about the wire tapping as he had nothing to conceal.

County prosecutor Stricker of Middlesex also declared he had good reason to believe that the wires leading into his office had been tapped.

BLAINE STARTS ON TRIP: IGNORES KLAN CHARGES

By Associated Press
Madison — Governor J. J. Blaine started on a tour of upper Wisconsin Monday, together with the other state officials and nominees of the September primary to be gone for the remainder of the week. He will open his campaign for reelection with an address at Fountain City, Friday night.

Before leaving the governor gave no reply to the telegram from W. D. Carroll, secretary of the Democratic State Central committee, asking him if he had not received the endorsement of the American Voters' league during the primary campaign. This league is said to have been sponsored by the Ku Klux Klan which the governor publicly denounced.

Ralph Immell, executive secretary, said that Governor Blaine would probably have nothing to say on the matter before returning from the trip.

Radio Saves His Life Then Causes Arrest

San Francisco—Radio which saved the life of Leslie Dewey Atkinson last Thursday when the liner City of Honolulu burned at sea, Sunday turned against him and caused his arrest. Monday he was in custody on the charge of leaving with army funds from the post exchange at Pearl Harbor near Honolulu. Atkinson's experience was recited in a copyrighted dispatch published by the San Francisco Chronicle.

According to the account Atkinson had left Honolulu aboard the City of Honolulu and when fate placed him on the rescue ship, the transport Thomas Marlines identified him. Radio communication between the Thomas and army officers at Pearl Harbor resulted in the order for his arrest.

Passengers on the City of Honolulu identified Atkinson as the "life of the shipwreck." They said he was persistently cheerful.

BRITISH BALK AT ACT BEYOND 3 MILE LIMIT

Refuse To Agree On Reciprocal Pact Suggested By Secretary Hughes

By Associated Press
Washington—Great Britain, in a communication delivered Monday to the state department is understood to have declined to agree to the suggestion of Secretary Hughes for a reciprocal agreement for the extension of the right of search seizure so as to give the American prohibition navy jurisdiction outside the three mile limit.

At the same time the British foreign office assured the American government that every precaution would be taken to prevent violation of American prohibition law, by rum smuggling under the British flag. It was that Canada and other port officials had been instructed to prevent so far as possible the issuance of fraudulent clearance papers and other improper practices complained of in Secretary Hughes prohibition note. Orders already are in effect directing the prohibition navy not to operate outside the three mile limit except in the case of vessels in communication with the shore by means of their own small boats, and it has been the apparent belief of administration officials that no extension would be in accordance with international practice unless it were made so by some specific agreement as that proposed by Mr. Hughes.

2 DAYS MORE TO GET ON ELECTION TICKET

If there are still any persons who desire to run for county office as independent candidates, they must file their nomination papers not later than Wednesday. The law requires that independent candidates for county offices must file papers not more than 40 nor less than 20 days before the general election.

The only independent who has thus far announced himself a candidate is John F. Hancher, Independent Democratic candidate for county clerk. His name was automatically placed on the ballot by his failure to receive the necessary 10 per cent of the party vote in the primary elections.

OVER THE WEEKEND

Rankin, Ill. — Two men were killed and one seriously injured when two Lake Erie and Western trains collided head-on near here.

Palermo, Italy — Police found a gang of counterfeiters who had printed more than a million bank notes including American dollars.

Milwaukee — William H. Austin, 63, legislative counsel for brewer's associations, died.

Baltimore — Lloyd's register of shipping, analyzing the shipping of the world, said the American merchant marine has the largest percentage of new ships and nearly the smallest of old ones.

Duluth—William Wright, 59, one of the organizers of the Atlantic league and widely known in baseball circles, died.

Opening Talk Is Delivered By MacNider

Medleys Of Former Days Mark Enthusiasm Of Delegates From Entire Country

By Associated Press
New Orleans — A declaration that the American legion regarded the interests of the disabled service men as its first responsibility and that "with regard to the adjusted compensation act, we've just started to fight," were outstanding points in the address of Harford MacNider, national commander, delivered before the fourth annual convention of the legion at its opening session here Monday.

"The adjusted compensation legislation is right—we know it is right and right always prevails in America," said Mr. MacNider. A great, well financed attack by interests which we cannot help but feel are correct and selfish, has given us one little setback. But those who represent the people in Washington are with us by great majorities. No one man, untouched by the war, without kith or kin to those who served—no group financial or otherwise, can stand between the wishes of the American people and the fulfillment of what they believe to be a just obligation.

MEET IN WAREHOUSE
Meeting in a converted warehouse on the Mississippi river front, decorated with flags of the Allied nations and red, white and blue bunting, the legion heard the reports of its national commander and adjutant.

The legion has in no way diminished in enthusiasm, judging from the cheers and activity which Sunday night pervaded New Orleans. A dozen medleys reminiscent of the war, floated through the hotel lobby of New Orleans, Sunday night. From "The Star Spangled Banner" to "Hail, hail, the King's all here," none of the old favorites were forgotten. The veterans lapsed from English into French with joyous abandon.

HAVE GOOD TIME
A night of excitement, dancing and music had not decreased their enthusiasm and during band music which preceded the opening of the convention, the first session of which was attended by members of the auxiliary, there were frequent interruptions of handclapping and cheering. The legionnaires had not arrived in such large numbers on the first day as were in Kansas City last year. But their "zip" and "go" were in no way abated.

They were youth incarnate, ready to enjoy a holiday, and ready at the same time to work for what they believe their rights, and proper dues from the country for which they went to war in 1917.

DISMISS CHARGE AGAINST DRIVER

Charges brought by Edward Campshire against Henry Walter of Cicero for failure to stop after colliding with the Campshire car were dismissed by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Monday. Complaint was brought by Mr. Campshire in September following injuries received by his daughter, Eunice Campshire, in the collision. Evidence in the case was not considered sufficient to convict Walter of maliciously neglecting the injured girl.

PLAN POWER OF NIAGARA TO NEW YORK BY RADIO

By Associated Press
New York—Transmission of power from Niagara Falls to New York by radio is a possibility of the future in the opinion of Dr. Alexanderson, chief engineer of the Radio corporation. This prediction followed the success of a 15 hour test of electron tubes in place of large alternators in transmitting wireless messages across the Atlantic.

STATE OFFICIALS START ON WISCONSIN TOUR

By Associated Press
Madison—Governor J. J. Blaine and State Treasurer Henry Johnson had left Madison Monday for Green Bay where they will start on the four day tour of upper Wisconsin fostered by the Associated Communities of that district of the state. The trip will take them through the central and northern counties ending at Eau Claire on Friday.

Governor Blaine was accompanied by Frank Kuehl, executive clerk.

U. S. NAVY AT CHINA
Hongkong—Six destroyers of the Asiatic fleet of the United States navy arrived at Hongkong Monday. Elaborate plans have been made for entertaining Admiral Anderson, new commander of the Asiatic division and the British navy, officers of the British navy.

SHEBOYGAN COPS STATE TITLE FROM MANITOWOC

TRENTMAN HIT ON ARM BY BALL IN FOURTH; GOES BAD

Chairmakers Whitewash Shipbuilders In Second And Final Tilt

Manitowoc—Having the best of the argument nearly all of the way, Sheboygan, champions of the Wisconsin Valley league, won state honors by defeating Manitowoc, pennant winners of the Wisconsin State league by a score of 4 to 0.

Manitowoc lost all chances of winning the tilt in the fourth when a pitched ball by Braun struck Trentman in the arm. Trentman began to go to the bad in the next inning and Sheboygan clinched the Shipbuilders for three runs in the sixth and with the run in the first stanza, brought up the score to 4.

Buster Braun pitched superb ball, permitting but four hits. Despite the handicap Trentman allowed only seven hits.

Sheboygan won the first game out of the three scheduled to decide the title after 11 innings of play, by a score of 2 to 1.

CUBS BEAT SOX; WIN CITY TITLE

Bruins Win Four Games And Hose Three—Grover Hurls Winner

Chicago—Grover Alexander on Sunday whitewashed the White Sox 2 to 0, and won the title of city champions for the Cubs. The Cubs won four games to the White Sox three. It was the first time that the Cub veteran ace has been able to win from the White Sox in three series. The victory of the Cubs on Sunday is the first since 1909 when the White Sox won the title which they retained until Sunday.

The game, the seventh of the series, was a pug war between the Cub star and Dixie Laverette, the Gary policeman, the former outpitching his youthful rival.

The crowd on Sunday was the largest of the series, every available seat was taken and rows of fans were crowded in front of the bleachers and the rear of the grand stand.

After the game Alexander was given a great demonstration. After shaking hands with W. H. Wrigley Jr., chief owner of the Cubs, Alexander darted across the field to the clubhouse with great difficulty as the fans crowded about him and tried to carry him off. Bud Falk and Amos Strunk of the White Sox hurried after the game to join the ballplayers who leave here Sunday night for a tour of the orient.

Grid Stars Of Yesterday Forget Signals But Hold Legionnaires To A Tie

"Youngsters" Show Pep Of Old Days—Tippett, Catlin, Sylvester Among Shining Lights—Each Side Gets Touchdown

Way back in 1905 or maybe longer, a tall youth playing for Chicago got his name in all the sport pages of the country by doing something that lots of people by this time have forgotten—anything this something caused the strong Michigan team to lose one of the most sensational games in the history of football.

Then again back in 1912 or maybe beyond that time there was a youth called "Dutch" who drop kicked so much for Lawrence as to hold the Badger eleven to a tie score and the youth was called one of the greatest footballers Lawrence ever produced.

"YOUNGSTERS" HOLD LEGION What we are trying to say is that the old saying that history will repeat itself was proven when these same "youngsters" together with other almost as famous "youngsters," aggregated under the name of All Stars held the strong Kaukauna legion eleven to a 6 to 6 tie in an interesting contest on Lawrence field Saturday afternoon, for the benefit of the Boy Scouts fund of the city.

Despite the fact that many of the All Stars hadn't donned a football suit from eight to seventeen years and their opponents were from five to twenty years younger, the All Stars outplayed the Legionnaires in every department of the game.

But before we go ahead any further with the details of the game we wish to say that if you haven't guessed who the "youngster" was meant in the first paragraph of the story we will say it was Mark Catlin. And furthermore, if your favorite attorney, doctor or salesman is sporting a black eye or skinned nose and limps on both legs don't jump at conclusions. He may or may not have participated in the game Saturday but give him the benefit of the doubt.

FORGETS SIGNALS By "Dutch" we meant Harry Sylvester. "Dutch" not only piloted the legion of lore but prevented the legion team from scoring another touchdown in the last quarter when he caught up with a runner of the visiting team after the latter had made a dash nearly three quarters the length of the field by intercepting a pass from "Red" Tippett to Catlin. If you will not tell a single soul, we'll tell you the reason of the misplay. You see, Assemblyman Catlin forgot the signals. But that was the only time that he did.

"Red" Tippett, one of Lawrence's greatest grid products, proved Saturday that he hadn't forgotten his football lessons despite the fact that he hadn't rehearsed them for nearly eight years. Tippett played ball that was remarkable and got the lone touchdown for Appleton.

Strangest of all was the manner in which the husky Legionnaires conducted themselves. They seemed afraid of the men who nearly all were old enough to be their daddies.

The game started with Appleton kicking off.

GET TOUCHDOWN On the first down the Legion team punted back, apparently thinking that it would be an easy matter to hold the "old timers" once they had them in their own territory. But after a series of plays, Bantz, Sylvester and Tippett advanced the ball. Sylvester then tore through the line and brought the oval to the 15 yard line. A forward pass from Sylvester to Tippett put the pigskin only a foot away from goal. The next down was easy and Tippett went over for a touchdown. The try for a point failed.

Toward the end of the second quarter Hartjes of Kaukauna caught a pass from Lindauer and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. Appleton's left tackle, Merkle, blocked the kick and Kaukauna had to be satisfied with 6 points.

It was in the last quarter that Appleton nearly lost the game. Quarterback Sylvester issued orders to Tippett to pass the ball to Catlin but the attorney "plumb" forgot the signals and as the result Hartjes caught the oval in the air and started to run toward Appleton's goal. Hartjes seemed to have a clear field and the nearest Appleton man was about ten feet behind. Just how the veteran quarterback caught up to the Kaukauna man was hard to account but at any rate Sylvester downed the legion halfback on the 20 yard line. The game ended a few minutes later.

Kaukauna's lineup was composed of the following: Rennecke, center; Engerson and Ryan, guards; "Henric" and "Pritz" Oim, tackles; Warren and Lester Brenzel, ends; Lindauer, quarterback; Smith and Hartjes, halves and Reardon, fullback.

Officials were: Dr. D. J. O'Connor, referee; Dr. W. J. Foote, umpire; William Garvey, head linesman; Leonard Stohl and "Duke" Grover, line men; Fred Bushey and G. Brenzel, time keepers.

UMPIRE MOBBED AS ORIOLES WIN SERIES

Baltimore Wins Deciding Game Of Little World Series From St. Paul

St. Paul, Minn.—The Baltimore International league champions won the Junior world series by defeating St. Paul, American association leaders, 4 to 3, here on Sunday, giving the easterners five games to St. Paul's two. Umpire Derr of the International league was escorted from the field by police after the game when the crowd swarmed on to the field to protest a decision made by Derr in the eighth.

A close decision at the plate in the eighth inning, in which Golvin, St. Paul first sacker, was called out on what would have been the tying run, brought on the demonstration. Golvin had doubled to right field and attempted to score when Haas singled to left. Lawry made a great throw to McAvoy and Umpire Derr called Golvin out as he slid into the plate.

IOWA IDOLS OF WEST RESULT OF YALE CONQUEST

Western Conference Title Is Next Goal—Big Ten Games Saturday

Chicago—Back from their 6 to 0 triumph over Yale, Iowa's conquering heroes are at once the pride of the Big Ten, the idols of the mid-west and the principal foe of five football teams of the Western conference in the championship race which reaches high speed next Saturday.

Defeat of the team which humbled Yale is the foremost objective of Iowa's five conference opponents—Illinois, Purdue, Minnesota, Ohio State and Northwestern. In the Big Ten schedule arrangements this fall, three of the teams regarded as among the most formidable encounters of the conference do not meet the Hawkeyes. They are Chicago, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Indiana also is off the Iowa schedule but the Hoosiers are hardly considered dangerous enough to seriously threaten the championship aspirations of others of the Big Ten.

The fact that Iowa does not meet three of the strongest teams in the conference gives a wider range to championship possibilities in the Big Ten. Another element is the absence of a Chicago-Michigan game this year. All these factors apparently give more teams a better chance for Big Ten football honors won by Iowa last fall.

The Hawkeyes meet Illinois, losers to Butler last Saturday by a 10 to 7 score in the annual Illinois homecoming.

Other games of the Big Ten this week are: Purdue at Chicago; Indiana at Wisconsin; Michigan at Ohio State; Minnesota at Northwestern.

OSHKOSH NORMAL BEATS SUPERIOR TEAM, 8 TO 0

Oshkosh—In the annual homecoming game here Saturday, Oshkosh normal defeated Superior, 8 to 0. The lighter Superior team played brilliant football, outplaying the heavier Oshkosh team in the first half. Oshkosh played superbly on defense but was weak on offense, and only narrowly prevented touchdowns on several occasions by splendid defensive work. Curtis Oshkosh fullback, made two place kicks from the 30 and 40 yard lines respectively. A fumbled punt which rolled behind the goal line accounted for the other two points.

BEAT THIS, Bowlers!

A new record for women's bowling scores was set Saturday night by Miss Sylvia Roubesh, when she knocked over 248 pins, alternating on alleys 5 and 6 at the Arcade. Miss Roubesh is chairman of the bowling committee of Appleton Womens club.

Trainloads Of Boats

Sugar boats are passing through Appleton on their way to the sugar factories at Green Bay and Menominee, Mich., at the rate of nearly two dozen carloads a day. Loaded cars are frequently sidetracked at Appleton Junction in large numbers waiting to be made up into trains.

MORE STAMPS OF NEW ISSUE COMING SOON

Following the issue of the new 11-cent postage stamp of the 1922 series bearing a portrait of Rutherford B. Hayes, comes the announcement that two more stamps are soon to be issued.

The new 5-cent stamp which is to be of the same color as the one now in use but differing considerably in design, is to bear a portrait of Theodore Roosevelt, and will be issued Oct. 26. This is the stamp that is in use on foreign mail matter, and the portrait of Roosevelt was chosen because he was known all over the world.

On Armistice day, Nov. 11, the new 50-cent stamp, lavender in color, will be issued and will bear a picture of the Arlington amphitheater with the tomb of the unknown soldier who lies buried there. Both stamps will be on sale for the benefit of stamp collectors and dealers. Appleton post office will not receive a new supply of the 11-cent, 5-cent, or 50-cent stamps until present supply is exhausted, which will be in about four months.

Big Demand For Liniment After Saturday's Game

Wives, mothers and sisters of the "old timers" were a large part of the feminine spectators at the football game at Lawrence field on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the Boy Scouts. Although they did not make as much noise as they probably did when the players were on high school and college teams, they formed an enthusiastic if somewhat nervous group of rooters.

Practically all the business men of the city were in attendance and most of them were school chums of some of the men on the field. After every brilliant play by the "old timers," someone would recall another brilliant play of the same player, which happened way back when they all were in school.

Many women spurned the grand stand and remained on the lines to watch the plays closely, while the majority of the men were in the bleachers or along the lines. A great many people were at the benefit game who are not fans of the college and high school games, and there were some who have not seen a football game in years. Many a woman sighed contentedly at the end of the game, because the ambulance and doctors had not been called into use. Others had visions of the liniment bottle which would have to be used on Friend Husband on Sunday in order to make it possible for him to be about on Monday.

WISCONSIN BEATS S. DAKOTA, 20 TO 6

Gibson And Barr Star—Rollie Williams Fails To Get Into Game

Madison—Wisconsin defeated South Dakota here Saturday afternoon, 20 to 6, in a game that never left the result in doubt, but the visitors crossed the Badger's line for the first time this season. Without the services of Rollie Williams, star halfback; Christenson below in the line, and Harris in the backfield, the regular team had its holes plugged with new men.

As expected South Dakota proved strong opposition for the Badgers, especially when the Cardinal team threatened the Dakota goal. Twice the Badgers got within a few yards of a touchdown in the first period, to have South Dakota twice knock down passes.

Gibson carried the ball over for the first touchdown early in the second quarter after a 15 yard pass, Barr to Irish, was completed. During the first half the Badgers' aerial attack proved good in 11 out of 14 tries for a total of 145 yards gained.

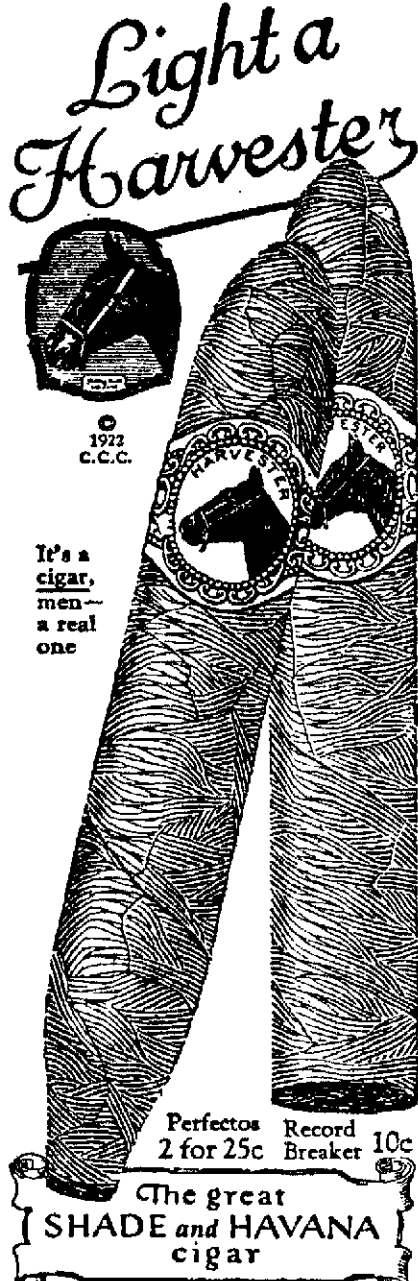

RUNS 45 YARDS Eagleburger at left half brought the crowd to their feet in the second half with a run around end that netted 45 yards. Two more passes completed for the second and third touchdowns, Saari going over both times. Wisconsin failed to score in the last period and depending on the forward passes South Dakota continually threatened to score until finally, Schutte grabbed a pass, dodging for a seventy yard run and a touchdown. An attempt at a place kick was blocked by Shernecker.

Gibson and Barr starred for the Badgers with Barr returning the ball nicely by punts. For South Dakota, Schutte and Welch stood out, but this entire South Dakota line had the ability to hold when their goal was in danger.

WHY WE SHOULD BATHE INTERNALLY

Physicians agree that most human ills are caused by accumulated waste in the lower intestine—head aches, biliousness and "that tired feeling" are but the forerunners of much more serious ailments, and more drugs are used with the mistaken idea of ridding us of this waste than for all other ills combined.

Why not try the unflinching and perfectly natural method of bathing internally with the "J. B. L. Cascade," and keep the intestine always clean and free from all poisonous waste.

Over a million progressive Americans are now using it, have bade good-bye to that half-sick feeling and are consistently proof against many ills, as well as arising every morning clear-headed and eager for the duties of the day.

Ask us for a little book "Why Man of Today is Only 50% Fit." You will learn interesting facts about yourself that you have never known. Scientific, but reduced to simple English as befits the simplest yet most effective Nature treatment for consistent health and strength.

It is free. Phone for it today while you think of it.

AUTO TIPS OVER IN SUNDAY COLLISION

Otto Schoenian Of Oshkosh Is Unhurt In Crash—Two Other Accidents

Otto Schoenian, Oshkosh, escaped injury Sunday afternoon in one of three weekend accidents in the city, when his Ford coupe was struck and overturned by an automobile owned by an Illinois driver whose name was not obtained. The collision occurred at the corner of College-ave. and Richmond-st.

Schoenian was going east on College-ave. and turned to go north. The Illinois car hit the rear end of the coupe and turned it over on its side, breaking some of the glass and bending the fenders. Mr. Schoenian was unhurt. The Illinois machine had only slight damage and the driver escaped injury.

The rear end of an automobile owned by J. M. Behrendt, a traveling salesman, was damaged slightly by a car driven by Jensen brothers in a collision Saturday night on College-ave. near Appleton-st. Behrendt was backing away from the curb when the Jensen machine struck his car in the rear, bending a fender and tire rack.

Another traveling salesman, R. S. Jennings, figured in a minor collision with Brettschneider Furniture company's truck driven by Louis Briggs Saturday night at the corner of Washington and Morrison-sts. The damage was slight and the drivers unhurt.

EVEN AN ARTIST MUST EAT WHEN SHE IS HUNGRY

Contrary to the beliefs of many, artists have to eat just like other people even when they are snowbound between New York and Boston. Miss Marie Sundelius, who will appear at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Friday evening proved that point recently much to the inconvenience of a knight of the road.

Miss Sundelius was hurrying from New York to Boston to fill a concert engagement when her train became snow bound. She had not taken the time to eat before catching her train, so when she saw a man standing on the platform of the train eating a sandwich, she felt so wistful toward the sandwich that he offered to get her one. The train had been stalled for sometime at a way station and so the gentleman hurried from the coach to the station restaurant to procure the food.

No sooner had he set foot inside the eating place than the train lurched forward and was on its way, leaving the gallant server of Miss Sundelius behind. All the way into the city, Miss Sundelius heaped reproaches upon herself and guarded carefully the baggage of the man who had been too kind for his own good.

Miss Lorraine Heckel of Grand Chute, spent a few days with relatives at Kaukauna.

Says It Made A New Person of Her

Thousands of people needlessly endure a half-sick, nervous run-down condition when they might enjoy sturdy, robust health and all its manifold blessings if they only knew what to do. People in this condition find Tanlac soon ends their trouble and build up abundant strength, energy and vitality. Mrs. S. E. Suneson, 1616 Oakes-ave., Superior, Wis., says: "I had stomach trouble so bad it almost drove me distracted. I lost fifteen pounds in weight and my whole system was run down. Tanlac had me improving right away, and now I eat anything I want, my digestion is perfect. I've regained ten pounds and am feeling just fine."

Nervousness and a run down, tired-out feeling are but symptoms of a hidden cause, which usually lies in the stomach. Tanlac enables you to digest your food properly and eliminate waste, helps you regain your old time strength and vigor. Get a bottle today at any good druggist.

IT DIDN'T WORK

While walking through our new department store Saturday I saw a lady who had a pretty new bag on her arm while she carried an old bag in her hand. Thinking this strange I watched her. As she was about to leave the store a clerk called her attention to the new bag on her arm. It she did not heed until he stepped up to her and again reminded her of the new bag on her arm which she had not purchased. After saying "O please excuse me" she left the store.

He was on his way to the grocery store on an errand for his mother and had his purse in his express wagon in which he intended to place his purchases.

In crossing the street car track on North st. the purse was jolted out of the wagon and was not missed at the time by the owner. In the meantime I saw a lady pick it up as she crossed the track where the boy had crossed a few moments before.

When the owner returned to look for his property I motioned to him that the lady had it but she denied having it and it would not list to him.

THE RETORT COURTFOUS

Friday night it was my misfortune to be sitting behind a young girl who hadn't removed her hat. Then was a vacant seat in front of her. A very large man came in and filled the seat. The girl in a loud voice said "Just look at it marked itself in front of me." The man turned around and looked at her and then he said "I'm sorry I'm so big that you can't see, but I at least have my hat off."

FORD TIPPED OVER

Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock I spied a Buick car from Illinois hit a Ford Coupe a severe blow that turned the Coupe on its side. The big car apparently was unhurt. The accident occurred at the corner of College ave. and Richmond st. As soon as the Ford had struck the ground several men took hold of it and set it on its wheels again. Several windows were broken in the Ford. No one was hurt.

IN "If You Believe It, It's So!"

From the popular novel by Perley Poore Sheehan
Directed by Tom Forman
Scenario by Waldemar Young

LARGE CROWD IS DELIGHTED WITH JEALOUS HEARTS

Amateur Players Present Play In St. Joseph Hall In Finished Manner

Surpassing the usual amateur play in plot, lines and presentation, "Jealous Hearts," the three-act comedy given by young people of St. Joseph church in the parish hall Sunday evening, was warmly received by the crowds that packed the building. Not a seat was left in the auditorium, and many persons who sought in vain to purchase seats turned disappointedly away.

Much credit is due the director of the play, George E. Decker, for what appears to be almost faultless interpretation by the players. Difficult lines had been mastered and cues seem to have been followed with accuracy, all of which indicated careful rehearsals and thorough drilling.

The biggest smile provoker of the evening was Alex Hipp as Julius Brunus—or maybe it was Brutus Junius—but there is no doubt about the rear name which was Bang Bang is a Shakespearean actor and very proud of it. As entertaining actors, both Hipp and Bang deserve commendation, but when Bang in a prearranged endeavor to impersonate a minister, he failed beautifully. All in the lines, y'understand.

GIRLS ARE CHARMING
Miss Mathilda Dorn and Miss Gladys Kranhold, who appeared in "Her Gloves," the amateur play given at St. Joseph hall last spring, took their parts admirably. Miss Dorn, as that funny little Dutch cook, Katrina Von Hoot, provoked many a laugh by blundering good intentions. In the last act she makes a complete change of disguise and transformed herself into a sweet little miss. Miss Kranhold, as Mrs. Jack Hart, has an awful lot of trouble on account of her jealous heart and her aversion to actor folk and the stage. Her husband's former connection with the stage brings him into numerous devilish scraps, or "scraps with the devil."

The part of Jack Hart is played by Joseph Doerfer. His troubles are multiplied by the fact that another Jack Hart lives at the same apartment house and that both have their names mixed. Sylvester Stingle is Jack Hart No. 2, single, and fiancé of Estelle Clayton, dashing young actress, acted by Miss Sybil Schommer. She carried out her part in a finished manner. Lawrence Schreiter, as Coffee, the Negro butler who minds his own business and "don't tell nobody nothin'" is quite mirth provoking.

As a whole, the play was void of awkward breaks and everybody, both the actors and the audience, were at ease. The play will be repeated Monday evening, the proceeds being intended for the new Sisters home.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS COLLEGE DEBATE QUESTION

Resolved: That the United States should enter the League of Nations is the debate question which will be used by most of the colleges in Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota, according to plans made at a recent meeting of coaches of debate from these states. The Forensic board of Lawrence college has already made tentative plans for four triangle debates on this subject, one of which is to be held with Albion and Illinois Wesleyan and three others which are with Ripon and Carroll, with Hamline and Gustavus Adolphus and with St. Olaf and Westminster of Fulton, Mo.

At the meeting in Chicago, a new organization was formed to be known as the Mid-Western Debate Coaches conference. Some of the colleges in the conference are Lawrence, Ripon, Carroll, Northwestern, Illinois Wesleyan, Albion Hamline and St. Olaf.

"Indians" Have Meetings In Mystic Tribal House

Blackhawk "Indians" are abroad in Appleton. They have headquarters of a mystic nature which only the well-trained members of the tribe can enter.

This horde of braves was not unearthed by the police, but by J. E. Dennison, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. He was taken into the secret sanctum and it was not long before he had the gang converted from wicked pirates called the Squeeze-ins, to a band of savages, called the Blackhaws.

Thereby hangs a tale of the gang spirit in boys, and the thirst for romance and mysticism.

Mr. Dennison learned of the gang and its meeting place through remarks made by some of the boys with whom he comes in contact. He asked permission to visit the place and the boys, knowing they could trust "Denny", took him there after dark.

The den of the pirates was the rear end of a garage. Three hidden strings at different places outside had to be pulled and the door swung slowly open. It closed after the visitors and a heavy bolt dropped into place. There was old furniture in the long, narrow room within, including a broken phonograph, a table, old lights and other equipment.

Mr. Dennison inquired of the boys concerning their plans. They told what they would like to be and were ready to reorganize. The Y. M. C. A. man suggested the Indian idea as the most practicable. The tribe leaders then were elected, each "Indian" adopted a name for himself and now they plan to put in an interesting winter. Mr. Dennison will meet with them frequently to help outline their activities.

Several state Y. M. C. A. officers are expected to be here Thursday for a conference with the directors on association activities for the year.

left there for his present position as advertising director of the May company store, Cleveland, one of the largest mercantile establishments in the United States.

Mr. Goldstein was given world recognition by election as president of the Associated Retail Advertisers of the World. He is a speaker of ability and will give his hearers some of the most modern ideas on retail promotion. His subject is to be, "Advertising as a Power in Retailing."

The Cleveland man's address is to be given at a banquet at 6 o'clock Thursday evening in the Venetian room of the Sherman house. John Clayton of Chicago, also is to speak, using the subject and staging the "The Dummy Rehearsal," a spectacular address on direct mail advertising.

Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

It is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger.

People that mercury may salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not camp or gripe. Every druggist handles it, and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only about a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

Mrs. A. Arceneaux of Orange, Texas, suffered from constipation for six years and found no relief until she took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin; and Mrs. Gus Anderson of Ball, Kans., corrected her bowel trouble so that she now eats and sleeps normally. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

THE ISSUE
Public interest in the congressional race between George J. Schneider, the Republican nominee, and Judge Henry Graass, who is running as a Progressive Republican in the Independent column, is increasing. As is customary in American political elections there will probably be smoke and froth aplenty and entirely aside from the true issue between these two candidates. There will be charges against Judge Graass, such as the one now being floated, that he is opposed to the income tax, when, in truth and in fact, he was one of its original supporters if, indeed, not one of its originators. Also,
that he has no right under the constitution to be a candidate, whereas the truth is he has a perfect right. The intelligent voter is getting used to discounting
a great many of the things said during political contests.

It seems to us that primarily the issue is not only a very clear one, but an equally simple one. It was coined expressively by a speaker in the interests of Mr. Schneider who said during the primary contest, at Little Saunee, that this was not the United States of America,
but the "United Snakes of Slamerica."
This bitter, untruthful, and wholly unjustifiable attack upon the country and its institutions is the issue. The Graass position is that the people must cooperate as a whole in correcting the various injustices that must always creep up in any nation of over a hundred million of people; that their correction by arraying
one class against another is impossible and that such attempt can only bring injury and disaster to the country. That is the issue.

We doubt whether any person who reads the outline of the Graass statement
as made at Sturgeon Bay can ever doubt the candidate's progressivism or successfully claim that he is out of step with the people of this district, their ideals of government, or their wishes for progressive reform. Judge Graass will never call his country the "United Snakes of Slamerica" nor permit any supporter to do so. His opinion of men who insult the flag and slander their country is well-known.

PREPARE TO GIVE LIBERALLY
The American Red Cross and Near East Relief have consented to work in concert in carrying relief to all sufferers
in the Near East. President Harding has appointed a special committee to cooperate in raising the necessary money.
Let us this time do our utmost to help
the needy in that district, and if possible aid the Near East to such an extent that the relief will be practically permanent.
When you receive a call from the Near East Emergency fund, give as generously as you can.

CITIES RISE OVER CITIES
The burial place of Antichus, first cousin of Herod the Great, has been found at Beth Sann, in Palestine. Antichus is believed to have been one of the directors of the slaying of the infants, designed by Herod with the object of killing the Divine Babe.
Much of the most interesting and most valuable information relative to the human race probably will be unearthed at Beth Sann, as it likely will be information treating of the origin of man.
Through the excavations at this historic place science may gather facts and records which will provide details of the most ancient times.
So far the diggers have found the elevations of six cities at Beth Sann, and they are confident there are more. In the scores of past centuries cities have risen
and disappeared, nations come and gone,
and great changes have taken place without the participants realizing fully the significance of events.

It seems impossible that cities should rise on the ruins of cities and especially in the midst of civilization. It seems impossible that immense buildings should be engulfed in the vicissitudes of time and disappear under-ground as completely as if the earth had swallowed them. It seems impossible that the lapse of years should wear out all remembrance of the towns buried beneath the new town, and that people should not know that they were walking on the roof of ages of history.
Build a new house beside an abandoned, dilapidated old house. It is not long, comparatively, until time and the elements envelop the old in heaps of dust and decay. Some time a new building rises on the buried one. In a small way this describes how the records of mankind are interred.
Time is the leveler and builder of cities. Time comes and time goes, and progress, decline and change journey with the races through the years. We actually bury the past over and over again, and then, when time unearths it,
we are amazed that tradition itself had tired of passing the news on to succeeding generations.
During all the centuries the human family has lived in but a few places. One civilization has grown over another, similarly to the rising of a city upon city.
Yet, it is the same mankind.

RIGHT KIND OF SAFETY MEASURES
It would be the finish of reckless automobile driving if all executives of motor-car associations were to emulate the example of Mr. J. J. Caradine, president of the Automobile club of Missouri. This gentleman calls on owners and drivers of cars, as well as pedestrians to offer evidence in court in cases relating to violation of the traffic laws.
Public opinion is competent to reduce the number of deaths and accidents. But public opinion must express itself, and,
if it does express itself, motorists and pedestrians will help enforce the laws,
and help to obey the laws.
Most deaths and accidents are due to careless driving. A considerable percentage of accidents is due to carelessness of pedestrians. The reason that drivers and pedestrians are careless is that laws
are not enforced, and the reason that laws are not enforced is that public opinion is not assertive.
Public opinion should be organized. It can be organized by establishing a municipal safety bureau or committee, with an executive charged with educating the people and assisting in enforcing the law.
The large majority of street accidents is preventable. This is proved by the fact that the most congested spots in cities and towns are the safest. These spots are the safest because traffic regulations are enforced there.

GANDHI'S DOCTRINE
The Right Reverend Fred B. Fisher, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Calcutta, says that the nationalism preached to the people of India by Gandhi may save the British empire. Gandhi has taught those of his land that they are not Mohammedans, Hindus, or Christians, but Indians.
Bishop Fisher remarks that the 60,- 000,000 Mohammedans in India may be inclined, as a result of Gandhi's advice,
not to feel special affection for the Turks
for being co-religionists, but to think of their interests as nationals of India. Here is an inside glimpse of the situation in that mammoth British colony which conveys a new and important idea. Heretofore Mohammedans have been Mohammedans; hereafter they may be nationals
first.

TODAY'S POEM
By Berton Braley
THE WISE VIRGIN
"Be good, my child, and let who will be clever,"
Charles Kingsley said that mouthful of advice;
But I'd suggest it does no harm whatever
To be both good and clever. To be nice
A lady doesn't have to be a dumbbell.
He brains won't hurt her any with a man.
"Be good my child—" but do not be a mum belle,
You ought to be as clever as you can!"
"Fine feathers," so the moralists may warn you
"Don't make fine birds." And that's no idle word,
But feathers that are fine won't make folks scorn you
If you are, otherwise, a noble bird!
Clothes do not make the man or yet the woman,
And—knowing human nature's very human—
The wise dame dresses smartly as she can!
"Beauty is but skin deep," the preachers tell you,
And "Handsome is, as handsome does," they say;
But just the same, wherever you may dwell, you
Will learn that beauty isn't in the way.
You will not find that it's a waste endeavor
To make yourself a pleasant sight to scan,
"Be good, my child"—and be as well-dressed, clever,
And just about as pretty as you can!

Health Talks
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual case cannot be considered. Ad-

TO SAVE YOUR HAIR TAKE THE AIR
It has once more been discovered this time at Battle Creek, that seborrhea and alopecia, generally known as dandruff and baldness, are caused by faulty breathing. This discovery is made on an average of once every eight years. Sanson might have saved his hair had he taken the air; the Philistines caught him napping.
There may be still living a reader or two who can recall that I made some such discovery myself only a few years ago. Don't you recollect I called attention to the baldness of the violinist and the luxurious locks of the singer?
According to the latest discoverer of the relation of faulty breathing to baldness, persons afflicted with baldness were directed to elevate and depress
the ribs as much as possible with each breath. At the end of one short week, think of it, men, just one week, of this better breathing, the scalps of those experimented on became free from dandruff and their hair looked more lifelike. At the end of two weeks the hair had lost its dryness, and had taken on new vigor and growth.
Lost disillusioned baldpates dismiss such evidences with an incredulous smile, the Battle Creek discoverer shook up some expired air in a flask with distilled water after these had been kept in the incubator at body temperature for a short time. He found that some bacteria or toxic substance was derived from the expired air, and when a little of this toxin or poison was injected into rabbits, guinea-pigs, dogs and even hens they began to lose their hair or feathers.
In 1907 D. D. L. Parker advanced that idea, as-cribing loss of hair to a toxin in expired air contained in a restricted space in the presence of warmth and moisture, conditions he found to exist in the apexes of the lungs, the upper part, in individuals of sedentary habit, persons who seldom breathe
hard or deeply because they seldom exercise to that degree. Parker said women seldom became bald because they breathe larger with the upper chest.
All of this relates to ordinary premature baldness, the kind that creeps insidiously over the head of a man at the tender age of 30 or earlier, the forehead extending farther and farther back till it almost reaches the collar line.
This theory that baldness is somehow dependent upon a shortage of oxygen in the body, appeals strongly because it dovetails so well with most of the standard theories of the cause of premature baldness. The lazy, sedentary, unathletic, over-nourished man generally has a slow metabolism,
which means he worries along with a minimum oxygen absorption. He is or generally has been fond of wearing a "kelly" still further impairing the nutrition of his scalp. He lives without work, that is,
by his wits, merely using his brain but that is incidental rather than a factor of his baldness.
Women's headgear doesn't prevent the hair from serving its proper protective function nor do their hats hind the head. They do not wet the hair with water when they brush it. They keep their scalp cleaner and in better condition by shampooing and brushing the hair thoroughly. And they don't smoke much.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Birthmark
My five months old baby has a birthmark extending from the corner of the eye down over the temple, about two inches square. The family doctor says it can be removed by X-ray but it is in a bad
place to treat because X-ray may injure the eye,
and then the birthmark may return in case of shock. . . . (Mrs. S. C.)
Answer—The younger the child the better the result of treatment for birthmark. There would be no particular danger for the eye if the birthmark does not involve the eyelid, the eye may be protected with a lead covering when the X-ray is applied.
Shock has nothing to do with the question of birth-marks.
Tonsils and X-Ray
Please tell me whether diseased or infected tonsils can be effaced as well with X-ray treatments
as by surgical treatment. (Mrs. S. K. W.) Answer—That is still a moot question. Physicians who have had considerable experience with the X-ray treatment praise it, but whether the sterilization of the tonsils by X-ray treatment is lasting in effect it is yet too early to know.
Violet Ray
Will the violet ray or other electric massage prevent falling hair at any period of life? Is it beneficial to the scalp generally? (Mrs. M. E. M.) Answer—No. The term "ultraviolet ray" refers to the invisible rays of the spectrum. Sunlight is rich in ultraviolet rays. So is the arc light. But the colored violet light has no particular remedial value. Ultraviolet light has great remedial value,
and among other purposes the treatment of falling hair by ultraviolet light is often beneficial. Ultraviolet rays will not pass through glass but will pass through a quartz crystal. The so called quartz lamp is one artificial means of applying ultraviolet light.
The popular toys called violet ray machines have practically no remedial value.
Ischio-rectal Fistula Kindly inform me whether the ischio-rectal fistula can be cured by treatment other than operation.
What are the causes of such fistula? (M. C. A.) Answer—The original cause is usually ischio-rectal abscess. Some fistulae can be made to heal without operation.

Daily Editorial Digest
(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion
SEE BRANCH BANKS AS AN EVIL TO MOST SMALL COM-MUNITIES
There is general approval on the part of the newspapers of the action of the American Bankers Association
in condemning branch banking because it tended to centralize authority
and is not responsive to local conditions. This approval is generally voiced by editors representing the smaller communities but their views
are seconded by such influential journals of the Chicago NEWS and New York TIMES. On the question of can-culation of foreign debts the newspapers remain widely divided and in many cases political views obviously govern expressions of opinion.
"The time has come," the Chicago DAILY NEWS, asserts, to bring the entire banking structure into a more harmonious organization. The Federal Reserve System greatly reduces the supposed need for branch banks.
The opponents of such institutions should use their influence with the state banks that, for reasons good,
bad or indifferent, sound, selfish or whimsical, decline to apply for membership in the federal reserve system and so induce them to join." It must be remembered, the Milwaukee JOUR-NAL continues, "that the local bank's chief interest is its community."
It shows the community's needs by direct contact. The system bank must consider its field as a whole and cannot be responsive to the peculiar conditions of each community." Because of all this, the Fargo FORUM holds,
"the branch banking system, like the chain newspaper is one of the real menaces to the welfare of the smaller cities of the country." The evil of such centralized control has been so great, the JOURNAL adds, that it revels that "branch banking is not permitted in Illinois so far as the state is able to control the situation."
The other outstanding phase of the banking situation, the foreign debt,
also comes in for attention by the editors because of the appeal of Thomas W. Lamont for cancellation of the foreign debt and the Boston TRANS-SCRIPT, in this connection, asserts
"it is time to remind Mr. Lamont and the other bankers who agree with him that any administration, or any party that attempts to cancel these debts is doomed to an overwhelming defeat in the polls." To which the Denver ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS adds
a note questioning whether speeches
of this character "will help the situation much," but recalling that this country "has been filling the place of England as the loaning nation," which eventually must cause it "to change its political policy." The NEWS then proceeds to point out that "oil is beginning to make it do so at this moment. It cannot allow European and Asiatic oil fields to pass into the possession of rivals because of a part of the administrative action of masterly isolation." But because no banker has come forward
"with a cocksure formula" to deal with the international debt situation
the Newark NEWS is convinced the bankers "in the course of the next year are going to do a lot of talk thinking about it," while the New York GLOBE in turn remarks "the bankers are as much at sea as the rest of us over the administration's foreign policy," although their refutations are a powerful reminder that it is time for the administration to get its back on the peanut politics and personal animosities of 1920 and consider the actual present economic interests of the country.

Because of existing international affiliations the Jacksonville FLORI-DA TIMES UNION, is not prepared to admit that the bankers are in position to be entirely "altruistic" in debating the situation suggesting that
"when they announce to what extent
they will cancel the obligations due them from the nations of Europe
they will give the government of the United States a suggestion as to what proportion of the obligations to be cancelled this suspicious men will be found who will say they wish the government to cancel obligations due it so that the nations of Europe will have more money to pay them what they have borrowed." The Rochester TIMES UNION, on its part, desires to know "of what use to us are big totals of money coming to us if the figures 'don't mean anything'?" If the men best informed on finance think readjustment of international debts and better international cooperation are essential for getting the world on its feet again we, as the largest single national unit in that world, should do well to give their counsel careful consideration." And the Chattanooga NEWS further holds that "it is a condition, not a theory
which confronts us—and the world.
We would just as well blink it. The sooner disturbed conditions are adjusted on a basis of practical common sense the sooner prosperity will be restored."

But after all, it is the branch bank problem that now is most pressing in the opinion of the newspapers representing the smaller communities and the Manchester UNION feels the bankers must stand firmly against such a plan as branch banks cannot commend themselves "as highly to influential citizens as the carefully conducted and independently managed local institution system of banking."
The Kalamazoo GAZETTE holds that the branch bank plan tends "to put the money power of communities into the hands of a few financiers," and
"the need that was the case before the establishment of the Federal Reserve System," which makes the small bank "of greater service to the community if services because the resources at its disposal are greater than would be the resources of even the most powerful parent bank." Added to this is the fact, the Lincoln STATE JOURNAL says, that "the country has a strong prejudice against further concentration of business in large centers. This alone will prevent any favorable hearing of the arguments for the Canadian

HEALING THE WOUNDS.
Berlin.—Writing in VOSSISCHE
ZEITUNG Louis V. Kohl says:
"The conclusion of the agreement between Hugo Stinnes and the Marquis de Lubersac, President of the Confederation for reconstructing the Devastated Regions, opens a new era
in Franco-German relations. Louis V. Kohl, a neutral politician, gives his opinion on the subject.
"Germany is seriously ill; many more learned doctors have tried their skill on her poor body, but blood continues to flow from her wounds. From day to day she becomes weaker. But nobody has yet really tried to bind up and heal the wounds—perhaps the doctors are afraid of becoming unpopular because the cure that is necessary will be very unpleasant for the patient; possibly he prefers to die rather than submit to a cure which is contrary to his religious and patriotic ideas.
Doctors who have lived among savages will know how often it happens that the refuse to take the medicine
of the 'white-medicine' and sometimes even prefer to die.
"The first method of healing—understanding with England—did not help sufficiently, though for the time being it had a good effect on the patient, who before that time was completely isolated. But now this remedy is no longer of use, indeed it rather injures than helps him; and it is necessary now to find another really decisive remedy, for death stands at the door and refuses to wait.
"An attempt has already been made to try this remedy, when Rathmann negotiated in Weisbaden with the French reconstruction minister,
but, in the first place, this was only an attempt, and then it never got any further. Why should not this last remedy now be tried?
"Germany cannot afford to refuse advances from France, otherwise the reparations question will never be settled. She cannot refuse either, because it is absolutely necessary that a stop should be put to all the threats
which prevent Germany from recovering. And France cannot do without Germany. France also is in such financial position that she can only live from the possibility of receiving payment from Germany. 'Has not the moment come then for Germany and France, to approach each other,
as their need of each other is mutual? The collapse of the one leads necessarily to the ruin of the other,
and the recovery of the one means also the salvation of the other.'"

TEMPTATION AS A "TEST"
London.—The Edinburgh correspondent of the Daily Express sends
the following:
The Landlady: Young girls of today are less careful of the moral code
than the girls in years gone.
The Student: That is not so. I will prove you are wrong by a test.
This is the basis of the strange defense put forward by James Mitchell,
an engineering student, twenty-two years of age, when he appeared before the Sheriff and a mixed jury
here today, accused of sending threatening letters to his wife, and attempting procuration.
A widow with whom Mitchell boarded declared that she argued that girls
of today were not as careful as girls
used to be about morals.
"Mitchell did not agree, and said he would prove that I was wrong," added the widow. He said he would become acquainted with six respect-ably brought-up young women by advertising, and that no matter what suggestion he made to them they would show no looseness of morals. If he failed to prove his contention, he added, he would pay 5 pounds to some charitable fund.
Mitchell corroborated this evidence,
and the Sheriff declared that even if he had no intention of doing anything wrong, it was an abominable thing to test the morality of these young girls.
The jury found Mitchell guilty of attempting procuration, and he was sentenced to twenty months' imprisonment.

Never Get Discouraged
N. P. Lindberg, originator of the slogan, "Say it with flowers," is killed in an auto accident in North Dakota. As you suspected he was a florist.
His famous four-fold slogan has sold more flowers than any 10,000
florists that ever lived. And the slogan was not carefully thought out.
Lindberg coined it off-handedly almost absentmindedly in conversation at a national florists' convention.
That is what a gambler calls chance. It is chance, the sudden appearance of the unexpected, that shapes our destinies and makes life interesting. Never get discouraged.
Chance probably has something better in store.
Eighteen billion dollars worth is the world's total production of gold
since Columbus discovered America.
Only eight billion dollars of this exists as money or locked up in banks and the treasuries of nations.
An unknown quantity is being carried about in the form of watch cases and other ornaments to satisfy humanity's vanity.
Possibly a third of the gold mined
since 1492 has disappeared. All things come from the soil. All things return to it. Small wonder, land is the average person's idea of the best investment.

Mention this when you want to break up a dull talk about the situation in Europe. Why are the unimportant things of life most interesting? Answer: Civilization is dull.
The youngest yeggman, 12 years old, is led into court in a New England town. He was arrested while trying to break open a safe with a crowbar. Scientists will "study" him and talk much about environment, psycho-analytic complex, loss of endoring gland balance, etc.
A hard-headed old grandpa will say

vious the remedy, longer the search for it.
Lillian Gattin, first woman to cross
the continent by airplane, arrives at Minneapolis, L. I. from San Francisco.
The trip took 27 hours 11 minutes of actual flying.
More important than her achievement is the purpose of her trip—to create public interest in her plan to have March 2 set aside as a memorial day for men who die pioneering aviation.
Miss Gattin is a shrewd psychologist. She knows the value of advertising. Her trip was a flying ad.
Muller, professor in University of Texas, arrives in Moscow from Berlin with an airplane load of flies, which he studied to learn more about heredity.
He is welcomed by Russian fly enthusiasts who have been making similar researches. The same Russians under Prof. Kolzoff, are experimenting on birds to learn how to prolong life, and getting results.
Are you surprised to learn that science still is thriving in the ruins of Russia? Science is one thing that nothing has ever been able to kill.
That's because it's based on the powerful force, human curiosity.

Q. Is it true that water itself is intoxicating? E. I. H.
A. Water in excess is an intoxicant according to Science Service. With the aid of an extract from one of the ductless glands and also without such assistance in controlling thirst Dr.
Leonard G. Rowntree of the Mayo Clinic has proved that excessive water drinking by either humans or animals may result in intoxication.
"Water intoxication," he says, "is hard to produce, as nature has provided against the accumulation of water in the body. It is a poisonous amount. Through thirst the intake of water is regulated to the body's needs. Unless the intake is greatly in excess the output through the kidneys and the skin takes care of the surplus. In order to control the thirst, an extract from a small ductless gland at the base of the brain was used. Under the influence of this drug the patient kept drinking water until he developed marked headache, nausea, a staggering gait, unsteadiness of muscles and inability to stand or walk, which lasted for a few hours. The same process was tried with dogs with even more striking results. The convulsions of water poisoning are cerebral in origin and of extreme violence at times, usually lasting from 1 to 10 or 15 minutes.
Q. Please define domestic science,
domestic art, household economy,
household management, household
administration and home economics?
L. E. H.
A. Domestic science is that science which pertains to the preparation of food, domestic art is that activity which is concerned in the making of hats and garments, household economy is the practical system whereby household affairs are managed; household management is synonymous with
"domestic or household economy";
household administration is the oversight of the activities connected with the maintenance of a home; home economics is that science that treats
of the means and methods which make possible the well-being of the family.
Q. If it rains during a double head is the rain check good? P. J. M.
A. Since the admission price is the same as it is for one game, a rain check is good only when less than four and a half innings of the first game have been played.
Q. Are people more apt to be over-watered in the body, if they come by train, especially in young women, from 5 to 6 mm., or about 1/4 to 3/4 inch, during each 10 days after first piercing the skin, or about 3/4 to 1 1/4 inch a month. When it reaches a length of 10 to 14 inches its rate of growth is reduced one-half, and later toward the end of its normal life its increase is hardly perceptible.
Q. How much did the arenas for the Dempsey-Willard and Dempsey-Carpenter fight cost? T. H.
A. The arena where the Dempsey-Willard fight was held cost approximately $233,000, while the one in which Dempsey and Carpenter fought cost about $400,000.
Q. Where is the largest stage in the world? J. G. R.
A. The University of Washington
at Seattle has a stage in its stadium which is said to be the largest in the world.

Instant
Quaker Oats
The Quickest-Cooking Oats in the World

Now you get two things in Quaker Oats which no other oats can offer. You get a flavor which has won the world. All Quaker Oats are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. And now there is Instant Quaker—the quickest-cooking oats in the world. It cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. Made from the same queen grains, but the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly. In either style you get the finest flavor an oat dish ever had. In Instant you get quick cooking. Tell your grocer which style you prefer.

THE STAGE

Faith Big Factor in Promoting Success

Faith is a tremendous factor in promoting the success of men in all ways of life, according to Thomas Meighan, star in "If You Believe It, It's So," his new picture which Manager Holah announces to open today. His theory is that if you believe a thing firmly, it must be so.

We believed in this story from the very start," said Mr. Meighan. "There's nothing like confidence in a thing to make it come out right. If you believe a thing firmly enough it will very likely be a fact before you're through believing it and in this way is the theme of the picture. After all, the big things that take place in the world all have a mental origin and, because somebody believed in them sufficiently, they were realized. If somebody hadn't believed that motion pictures were a possibility, there wouldn't be any such thing. Things don't happen—they're developed through consistent effort based on conviction. Every great discovery and every great world movement comes about in just this way."

"So I feel that I am willing to bank on my statement that this picture will be one of the best in which I have ever appeared. Paramount believes in it, and to prove it gave me a supporting cast that couldn't be beaten. Just consider the list. Pauline Stark is leading woman; Joseph Dowling was 'The Mural Man' in the picture which proved enormously popular; Theodore Roberts, one of the greatest actors in the profession; Charles Ogle, another fine character actor; Charles French, Tom Kennedy, E. J. Brady and Laura Anson, where could you find a finer line-up? Tom Forman directed the picture, discussed it with me over and over again. We developed every point to its last possible degree. And we can't see where there's a loophole for doubt."

Mr. Meighan will be seen in "If You Believe It, It's So," at Fischer's Appleton Today. Manager Holah is preparing to handle record crowds if "If You Believe It—It's So."

LUTHERAN GROWTH
DESCRIBED IN BIG
JUBILEE MEETING

Lawrence Chapel Unable To Accommodate Huge Crowds Here On Sunday

More than 2,000 Lutherans from churches in this locality packed Lawrence Memorial chapel for the services Sunday in observance of the golden jubilee of the founding of the Synodical Conference of North America. The audience was the largest ever attending a gathering there, with insufficient seats to accommodate all.

More than usual interest was manifested in the addresses of the Rev. C. D. Peay, Negro preacher from the south, who outlined the deplorable situation among his people and the need for greater assistance for the churches there. All offerings for the day were contributed for missionary work among the Negroes and were in excess of $500.

Other speakers at the morning session were the Rev. C. F. Buenger, Kenosha, and the Rev. W. M. Czarnoska, Sheboygan. Prof. August Pieper, Wauwatosa, spoke in the afternoon. All referred to the history and work of the conference for which the celebration was held. They told of the growth of the synods in the conference, of the growth of the Lutheran faith and of the many accomplishments which had been possible through such great organizations. The birth of the Synodical Conference of North America in 1872 in Milwaukee was one of the biggest events in Lutheran history in the United States, they declared. Through their messages was woven an appeal to follow the teachings of Lutheranism closely and to help preserve the great christian ideals which are the keynote of its doctrine.

The Rev. Mr. Peay, who also spoke in the evening, was an eloquent and touching speaker. He told of the poverty and oppression of his people in Alabama. Their homes were lowly, he said, and lacked the christian atmosphere that is found in those of most white families. Much social work has been done, he declared, and wealthy people have contributed large sums for the Negro's welfare but little attention has been paid to the spiritual development of the colored man in America. Here was the need, and the Lutheran churches could do no better than to build a strong missionary organization and influence in the south. No quicker way could be found to solve the south's problem and end the bitter feeling there, he declared. Negro churches as they now exist were described graphically. He said the buildings were in bad repair and some are unfit for use, yet the Negroes will tolerate all this in their desire for worship. He mentioned one instance where the minister had to close the Bible during a storm to keep its pages from being soaked by rain leaking through the church roof.

Almost all of the churches in this locality belonging to the conference gave up their services so the members could attend. Headquarters for visitors were established at St. Paul Lutheran school and Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran church.

The Rev. E. Reilly of Ellington, was chairman of the big event. Members of the committee assisting included the Rev. T. J. Sauer, the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer, the Rev. Philip Froehke, John Behnke, secretary, and Louis Freude, treasurer.

M. E. MISSION SOCIETIES HOLD CONVENTION HERE

The annual convention of the Appleton district of the Womans Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in this city, Oct. 17 and 18 in the First Methodist church.

Miss Elsie Reik, Milwaukee, who expects to sail for Peking, China as a missionary, in November, will speak at the Tuesday and Wednesday sessions. Rev. Ira Schlagenbaur, Neenah, will give the address Tuesday evening following a banquet by members of the Appleton King's Heralds.

The banquet at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening is for the delegates and members and friends of the church.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

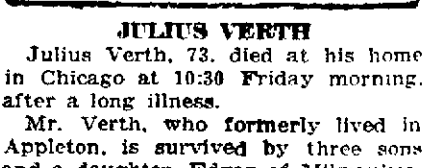

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Grief Wagon
Throws Scare
Into Grid Men

"Charlie" Emdor and Oscar Kunitz threw a scare into the old-timers who played football against Kaukauna American Legion team at Lawrence field Saturday and then had some fun with the fans at the expense of the players.

The pair equipped Kunitz's sombre gray ambulance with pails, sponges, dippers and a quantity of water and milk for resuscitation and rode out to the game. Everybody shivered a little when the big bus tore through the gate and circled the field with its gong clanging.

Mr. Kunitz parked the machine convenient to the gridiron and "Charlie" proceeded to unload the first aid collection. "Doc" O'Connor, referee, looked serious and then laughed. So did most of the players.

SPEEDERS, DRUNK, FINED IN COURT

Fred Nabbefeld and John Emmel, Menasha, Arrested Over Weekend.

Two men, a drunk and a speeder, were fined in municipal court by Judge A. M. Spencer Monday morning. John Emmel, Menasha, paid $5 and costs, a total of $8.20. He was found at Chicago and Northwestern depot in a drunken condition by Patrolman Ford, early Sunday morning and was confined in the city jail until Monday morning.

Fred Nabbefeld, a truck driver, was the second offender. He was operating his machine at 28 miles an hour on Park ave. Saturday night when arrested by Joseph Bayer, motorcycle officer. He paid $10 fine and costs of $3.20.

Chief George T. Frim says truck drivers have a tendency to speed over their routes and that this practice has become a nuisance. The policemen have warned many of these persons and their next offense will mean their arrest. The Nabbefeld arrest is the first in the campaign.

CATCHING COLD IS NOT AN ACCIDENT

The Penalty for Neglect of Health Rules

Take Father John's Medicine

When you catch cold you are inclined to think that it was accidental, that you sat in a draft or that you caught it from someone else. This is only half the truth. The real fact is that a cold is the penalty for neglect of the common rules of health. You have allowed yourself to become over-tired, over-worked and run down. You have allowed your power of resistance to be lowered. The cold germ which is always lurking nearby finds you an easy victim.

You can maintain your power of resistance to colds, coughs and similar trouble by taking Father John's Medicine which builds new strength and health. If you have already allowed yourself to take cold, begin treating it at once with Father John's Medicine. It will not only drive off the cold but it will build up new strength with which to fight off future attacks. adv.

KAUKAUNA PLAYS MANAWA TO A TIE

Penalties Blamed For Kaukauna's Inability To Score Victory

Kaukauna—Kaukauna high school football team and Manawa high school team battled through four quarters of a poor football game Saturday afternoon at Manawa and finished in a 7 to 7 tie. The local team played a better game than the Manawa crowd but penalties inflicted practically evened up the teams. Officials penalized the Orange and Black 150 yards while the home team was penalized not more than 5 yards.

Out scored for Kaukauna in the second quarter. Manawa could not hold her opponents and the Kaukauna line men were cutting great swaths in the defense. Gains of from five to fifteen yards were made at every plunge. Another opportunity to score came when the ball had been brought near Manawa's fifteen yard line. Instead of playing straight football, a drop kick was attempted and failed.

Manawa scored in the last quarter after a penalty for supposed placing the puck in within Kaukauna's five yard line. The Orange and Black fought hard but after four downs the home eleven managed to scrip the oval over the goal line.

ELECTION BOARD QUILTS ITS JOB

Kaukauna—The resignation of the election board in the first precinct was presented at an adjourned meeting of the common council Friday evening in the council rooms. Members of the board stated that $250.00 of the compensation fixed by the council was not sufficient for the service rendered. An ordinance fixing $750.00 as full payment for each member of the election board, no matter how many hours they put in, was adopted at the regular meeting of the council this month. The resignation was signed by Edward G. Schuman, Mrs. B. M. Kramer, Thomas Murphy, Mrs. Margaret Mikkeberg, A. P. Tate, Peter J. Metz and C. W. Chamberlain.

Letter Bait Fails To Land Sucker Here

What an interesting and innocent letter is the one which an Appleton resident received from his "long-lost relative" in Sunny Spain. What appeal could be more heartrending. But the Appleton man would not "bite."

Barcelona, 9-5-1922.
Dear Sir: Being imprisoned here bankruptcy, y beseech you to help me to obtain a sum of $60,000 dollars y ave in America, being necessary to come here to raise the seizure of my baggage, paying to the Registrar of the Court the expenses of my trial and recover my portmanteau, containing a secret packet where y have hidden two check payable to bearer four that sum.

As reward y will give up to you the third part, viz., 120,000 $. Y cannot receive yours answer in the prison but can send a cablegram to a person of my confidence as follows: Jose Ribas, Parlamento 16 Principal, Barcelona (Spain). Very interested: Davis. Awaiting your answer to instruct you all mi secret, R de S. First of all answer by cable, not by letter.

RETAILERS WILL ATTEND BANQUET

Appleton merchants are displaying keen interest in the gathering of advertising clubs of the Fox River valley to be held here next Thursday. Numbers of reservations already have been received by the retail division of the chamber of commerce for the banquet at which E. S. Goldstein, Cleveland, and John Clayton, Chicago, are to be the speakers.

Letters of invitation were sent to each merchant of the division by E. A. Schmalz, chairman, calling attention to the prominence nationally of the men whom Appleton Advertising club is to bring here.

CAR SHORTAGE SERIOUS HANDICAP TO LUMBERMEN

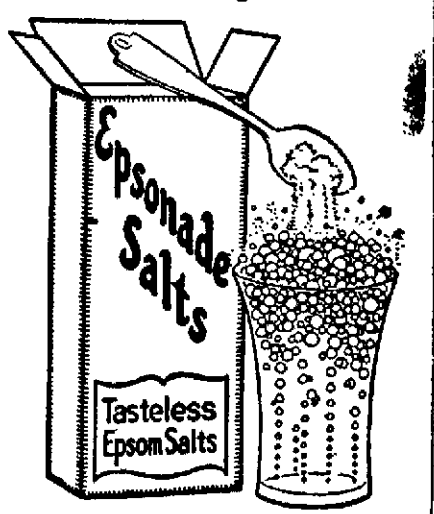

A steady expansion in demand for industrial stock in lumber is reported for the last week by the market department of the American Lumberman, published in Chicago. This expansion is attributed to the steady improvement in general business conditions. For example, it has been many years since the United States has been so free from strikes as it is today. The increase in demand from industrial sources, takes up part of the slack resulting from the usual curtailment in building at this season. In the South the car situation has shown slight improvement but it will take many weeks to bring it back to normal. Elsewhere reports indicate a continuance of the severe shortage of equipment. The Douglas fir producers of the Pacific coast would be tremendously handicapped were it not for their ability to ship a large part of their produce by water. As it is, those mills which can not make water shipments are in a very unsatisfactory situation. The demand for hardwoods shows a steady expansion and recent price advances have been well maintained by the volume of buying.

YANKS IN FRANCE KEEP PRICES HIGH

Edna Ferber Condemns American Tourist Practices Abroad

In an address before the Wisconsin Library association at Milwaukee, Miss Edna Ferber, formerly of Appleton, who has lately returned from a trip abroad, said vulturing through Europe is Americans' favorite pastime and ought to be stopped.

"That is all you can think of when you see them," she said, "thousands of sleek, richly dressed men and women, with pockets stuffed with good American dollars; eating Europe's best food, buying everything she puts on the market, riding in her taxicabs and causing prices to go sky high because of their expenditures."

They are like a lot of vultures over a dead body—picking the bones! Meeting in hotel lobbies, and stopping one another in the street and in the shops, they inquire how the picking is today."

Miss Ferber said the Germans talk nothing but the next war with France. Once Germany gets on her feet, the first thing she will do is to attack France, she said.

Clarences Real Peeved At Jokes On Their Names

Less Than Fifty Men In Appleton Bear Name Of Clarence

Clarence Massey of Cleveland has few followers in Appleton. Clarence is the man who is making a great fuss, first because his name is Clarence and second because the name has become a vaudeville joke rivaling prohibition and the tin lizzie. So Clarence has started a society to be known as the Clarence league composed of 10,000 Clarences, who will rise up and prove that Clarence is the name for a regular guy, not a sissy.

Clarence proposes to found a chapter of his national society of Clarences in Appleton but the Clarences here do not want to be among the national Clarences. In the first place the Appleton chapter would be very small for in the city directory there are not more than 40 Clarences and some of these have moved away. Those that are here who have been interviewed think themselves regular guys despite their names and most of them like the names and are willing to have it used as often as the jokers see fit.

The national Clarence fears that the name will become extinct if this crime against his name and that of hundreds of others is allowed to continue. He claims that it is some smart Alec who has been giving the Percival type of man the wholly dignified and stalwart name of Clarence. He quotes history to prove that the name from the beginning has been applied to conquerors and great men, "upstanding, two fisted men," he says.

Mr. Massey is urging upon every namesake of his this advice: "Whenever any one ridicules the name of Clarence, impress upon him that he is not funny, but only foolish."

TOWN MEETINGS DRAW BIG CROWDS

Interesting Programs Are Presented At Medina And Greenville

More than 150 people attended the community meeting at Pegal hall, Greenville, Friday night, and there was an attendance of 100 at the Medina meeting Thursday night.

L. H. McKay, hog expert of the college of agriculture, Madison, was the principal speaker at the Greenville meeting. He told of the hog feeding cost tests made at the Roy Schmitt and Joseph Byrne farms this summer, and how economical feeding was accomplished. He also explained the operation of the self-feeding hog device.

W. E. Smith of Appleton, speaking at the Medina gathering, said that his grandparents were among the earliest settlers of that locality and mentioned their accomplishments in building up successful farms.

Motion pictures dealing with educational subjects were shown at both gatherings through arrangements made by Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank.

An interesting feature of the Greenville meeting was the showing of slides of cattle exhibited by local breeders at the state fair this fall.

The FLAMING JEWEL

by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

Nobody understood how Jose Quintana had slipped through the Secret Service net spread for him at every port.

The United States authorities did not know why Quintana had come to America. They realized merely that he arrived for no good purpose and they had meant to arrest and hold him for extradition if requested for deportation as an undesirable alien anyway.

Only two men in America knew that Quintana had come to the United States for the purpose of recovering the famous "Flaming Jewel," stolen by him from the Grand Duchess Theodora of Esthonia, and stolen from Quintana in turn, by a private soldier in an American Forestry Regiment on leave in Paris. This soldier's name probably was Michael Clinch. One of the men who knew why Quintana might come to America was James Derrach, recently of the Military Intelligence, but now passing as a hold up man under the name of Hal Smith, and actually in the employment of Clinch at his deceptible "hotel" at Star Pond in the North Woods.

The other man who knew why Quintana had come to America was Emanuel Sardi, a Levantine diamond broker of New York. Quintana's agent in America.

Now, as the October days passed without any report of Quintana's detention, Derrach, known as Hal Smith at Clinch's dump, began to suspect that Quintana had already slipped into America through the meshes of the police.

If so, this desperate international criminal could be expected at Clinch's either by Emanuel Sardi, or other, piloted thither by Emanuel Sardi.

So Hal Smith, whose duty was to wash dishes, do chores, and also to supply Clinch's with "mountain beef" or deer taken illegally—made it convenient to prove every day in the vicinity of the Ghost Lake Road.

He was perfectly familiar with Emanuel Sardi's square features and parrot nose, having robbed Mr. Sardi of Quintana's cipher and of $4,000 at pistol point. And one morning while roving around the guide's quarters at Ghost Lake Inn, Smith beheld Sardi himself on the hotel veranda in company with five strangers of foreign aspect.

During the midday dinner Smith on pretense of inquiring for a guide's license, got a look at the inn ledger. Sardi's signature was on it followed by the names of Henri Piquet, Nicolas Salzer, Victor Geomades, Harry Beck and Jose Sanchez. And Smith went back through the wilderness to Star Pond, convinced that one of these gentlemen was Quintana and the remainder, Quintana's gang; and that they were here to do murder if necessary in their remorseless quest of "The Flaming Jewel." Two million dollars once had been offered for the Flaming Jewel, and had been refused.

CHAPTER II
Clinch's dump was the disposal plant in which collected the human wreckage of the wilderness.

It being Saturday, the seum of the North Woods was gathering at the Star Pond resort. A venison and chicken supper was promised—and a dance if any women appeared.

Jake Kloon had run in some Canadian hootch; Derrach, alias Hal Smith contributed two fat deer and Clinch cooked them. By 10 o'clock that morning many of the men were growing noisy; some were already drunk by noon. Shortly after midday dinner the first fight started—Xim rushed only after Clinch had beaten several of the backwoods aristocracy senseless.

Towering amid the wreck of battle, his light gray eyes a-glitter, Clinch dominated, swanning his iron fists.

When the combat ended and the fallen lay starkly where they fell, Clinch said in his pleasant, level voice:

"Take them out and stick their heads in the pond. And don't go too far to get me mad boys, or I'm liable to act up rough."

They bore forth the sleepers for immersion in Star Pond. Clinch reigned his quiet and repeated the rulings which had caused the fracas. "You gotta splay square cards here or you don't play none in my house. No living thumb-nail can nick no cards in my place and get away with it. Three kings and two trays is better than three chickens and two eggs. If you don't like it, gwan home."

He went out in his shirt sleeves to see how the knock-outs were reviving, and met Hal Smith returning from the pond, who reported progress toward consciousness. They walked back to the "hotel" together.

"Say, young fella," said Clinch in his soft, agreeable way, "you want to keep your eye peeled tonight."

"Why?" inquired Smith.

"Well, there'll be a lot o' folks here. There'll be strangers, too."

Don't forget the State Troopers are looking for you."

They had passed on the rough veranda in the hot October sunshine.

"Mike," suggested Smith, carelessly, "wouldn't it pay you better to go straight?"

Clinch's small gray eyes, which had been roaming over the prospect of lake and forest, focused on Smith's smiling features.

"What's that to you?" he asked.

"I'll be out of a job," remarked Smith, laughing, "if they ever land you."

Clinch's level gaze measured him; his mind was busy measuring him, too.

"Who the hell are you, anyway?" he asked. "I don't know. You stuck up a man on the Ghost Lake Road and hide out here when the State Troopers come after you. And now you ask me if it pays better to go straight. Why didn't you go straight if you think it pays?"

"I haven't got a daughter to worry about," explained Smith. "If they get me it won't hurt anybody else."

A dull red tinge came out under Clinch's tan.

"Who asked you to worry about Eve?"

"She's a fine girl that's all."

"You trying to make up to her?" he inquired gently.

"No. She has no use for me."

Clinch reflected, his cold tiger-gaze still fastened on Smith.

"You're right," he said after a moment. "Eve is a good girl. Some day I'll make a lady of her."

"She is one, Clinch."

A first Clinch reddened heavily—the first finer emotion ever betrayed before Smith. He did not say anything for a few moments, but his grim mouth worked. Finally:

"I guess you was a gentleman once before, you went up like you once was."

"Say, there's only one thing on God's earth I care about. You've guessed it, too." He was off again upon his ruling passion.

"Eve," nodded Smith.

"Sure. She isn't my flesh and blood. But it seems like she's mine, even I want she should be a lady. It's all I want. That damned millionaire Harrod bust me. But he couldn't stop me giving Eve her schooling."

And now all I'm livin' for is to be fixed so's to give her money to go to the city like a lady. I don't care how I make money; all I want is to make it. And I'm a going to."

Smith nodded again.

Clinch, now obsessed by his monomania, went on with an oath:

"I can't make no money on the level after what Harrod done to me. And I gotta fix up Eve. What the hell do you mean by asking me would it pay me to travel straight I dun no."

"I was only thinking of Eve. A lady isn't supposed to have a crook for a father."

Clinch's gray eyes blazed for a moment, then his menacing stare dulled, died out into sunny fixity.

"I wasn't born a crook," he said. "I ain't got no choice. And don't worry, young fella, they ain't a-going to get me."

"You can't go on beating the game forever, Clinch."

"I'm beating it," he hesitated. "And it won't be so long, neither, before I turn over enough to let Eve live in the city like any lady, with her automobile and her own butler and all her swell friends, in a big house like she is educated for."

He broke off abruptly as a procession approached from the lake, escorted by the battered gentry who now were able to wobble about a little.

One of them, a fox-faced trap thief named Earl Leverett, slunk hastily by as though expecting another kick from Clinch.

"Gwan inside, Earl, and act up right," said Clinch pleasantly. "You oughter have more sense than to start a fight in my place—you and Sid Hone and Harvey Chase, Gwan in and behave."

He and Smith followed the procession of damaged ones into the house.

The big unpartitioned room where a bar had once been was blue with cheap cigar smoke; the air reeked with the stench of beer and spirits.

A crowd of men, some shivering forest bums in their doney Saturday finery, were gathered there playing cards, shooting craps, lolling around tables and tilting sleeping glasses at one another.

Heavy pleasantries were exchanged with the victims of Clinch's ponderous fists as they reentered the room from which they had been borne so recently, feet first.

"New, boys," said Clinch kindly, "act up like swell gents and behave friendly. And if any ladies come in for the chicken supper, why, g'dang it, we'll have a dance!"

"NOBODY LOVES ME NOW" — Fox Trot

"WHENEVER YOU'RE LONESOME" — Fox Trot

BRUNSWICK RECORD NO. 2299 — 75c

Played by Gene Rodemich's Orchestra

The feature of this record is the brilliant piano trios. "Nobody Loves Me Now" has great possibilities as a fox trot number.

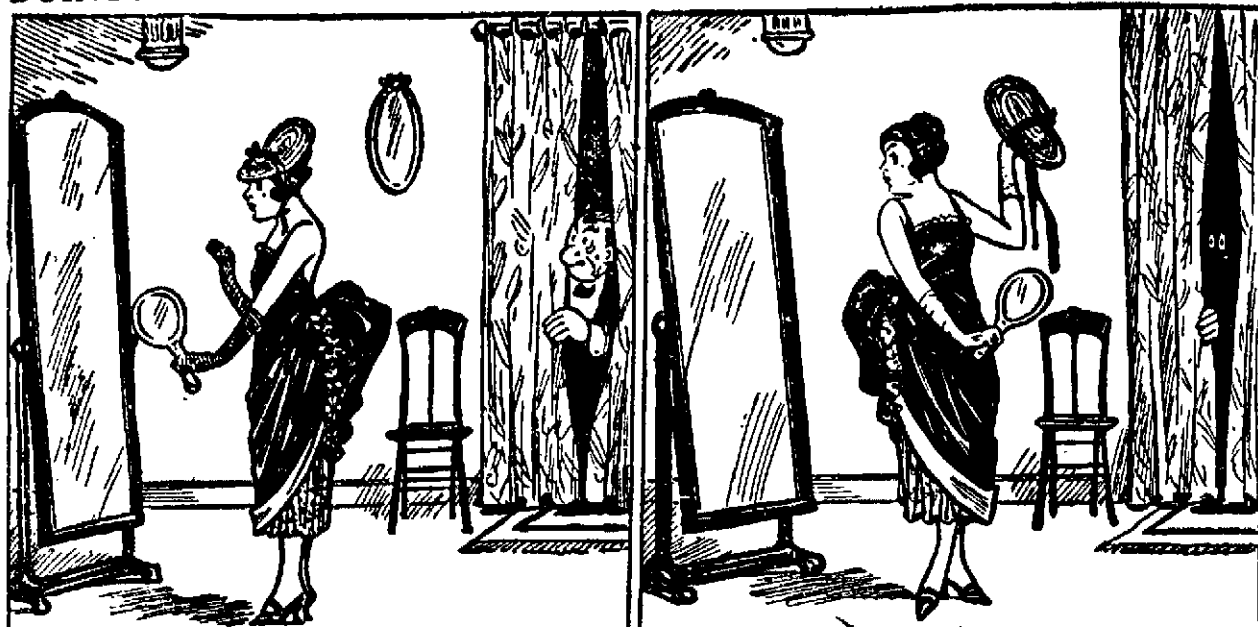

"Whenever You're Lonesome" is a breezy fox trot with a singular sort of syncopation that makes it very fetching.

accurate knowledge as to our needs, secured by means of non-partisan effort. The tariff question should be taken out of politics. As to the present tariff law enacted by our last Congress, I am absolutely opposed to the same as it now stands and it should be greatly revised, or repealed.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE—The 19th amendment is now the law of the land. The nation needs the influence of women in its political affairs. It is women's solemn obligation to take part in politics, and they should not evade their responsibility but bring their own intelligence and patriotism to the decisions of the election. In our women to a large extent the hope of America lies. The life of this republic will be secure if the conscientiously thinking women go to the polls. Study candidates, not as to their stand on a particular measure, but rather as to whether a candidate can be trusted to carry on our government on the highest principles with the truest comprehension of what constitutes a nation's greatness.

THE LAKES TO OCEAN WATERWAY—The Great Lakes to St. Lawrence Waterway will soon become a reality. I believe it to be a necessity and will be of service to this great middle west and the northwest. I can see its benefits to farmers and industries, and consequently the vast returns it will bring to them and to labor.

I will advocate the construction of the same.

THE SOLDIERS' BONUS—Our Soldier Boys have come to them as a matter of right and justice, and just compensation. Upon a moral obligation as well as upon an implied obligation, the nation is indebted to them. I favor the soldier bonus. While the last congress awarded them this bonus, its cowardly failure to provide means for its payment caused the president to veto the same. Congress should not only pass the bonus law, but in that law there should be incorporated means for its payment.

ESCH-CUMMINS BILL—I have never looked upon the Esch-Cummins

bill as passed, as anything more than an emergency act. I am opposed to it as it now stands, and favor its modification or repeal.

THE RAILROADS—There should be an actual and truthful valuation of the railroads of this country. The watered stock should be squeezed out of the same. Then the railroads should be allowed to receive a fair earning upon such true valuation. I believe this will enable them to reduce railroad rates and permit the payment of wages to railroad employees commensurate with the hazardous employment in which they are engaged.

THE VOLSTEAD ACT—The Volstead Act has caused widespread dissatisfaction, and disrespect and contempt has followed its attempted enforcement. This is evidenced by its wholesale violation and evasion. All must admit it has its weaknesses. At present its just interpretation and the manner of its enforcement are things upon which the judgment of the people differ greatly.

On the question of the amendment of this Act to permit beer and light wines, I favor an early referendum on this question, and I shall abide by the wishes of the people of this district.

TAXES—Taxes have always been a source of strife and dissatisfaction by those who pay them. Our nation is committed to the principles that the burdens of government must be borne by the people in proportion to their ability to bear them, or, in other words, the taxes must be paid depending upon the income or other financial ability of the people to pay them. The greater one's wealth or income—the greater proportion he should pay.

I favor the poor man, the man who has little, and who must struggle for existence. His exemptions must be liberal. "The little fellow" or the struggler to get a start in the world should not meet the brunt of the expenses of our government. Honest treatment and a sense of fair play demand liberal exemption to him. The burden must be borne by those who can afford to pay. For this reason I favor the income tax and the inheritance tax law.

ECONOMY—Economy in the national budget should be every legislator's aim. The public expenditures should be kept within the public income.

It is my aim to join hands with every man to shatter public abuses, and promote righteousness in government.

Justice for all. No class to profit at the expense of another.

LEGION DELEGATION GOES TO NEW ORLEANS ASSEMBLY

The men will spend about a week there attending the business meetings and sharing in the carnival fetes, parade, tours and other entertainment features which are to be provided.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sinnen of Fond du Lac, were guests of Appleton friends over the weekend.

"Y" BEAT MILWAUKEE IN CAMP ATTENDANCE

Appleton Y. M. C. A. exceeded every association in the state including the large Milwaukee institution, in the number of youths attending the state Y. M. C. A. camp at Manitowish this summer.

There were 221 campers, of which Appleton had 23. Milwaukee was second highest, with 20. The local Y. M. C. A. has had large delegations at the camp every year.

Mrs. William Fountain and sons Anthony, Eugene and Walter were Sheboygan visitors Monday.

All Fat People Should Know This

Fat people owe a debt of gratitude to the author of the now famous Marmola Prescription, and are still more indebted for the reduction of this harmless, effective obesity remedy to tablet form. Marmola Prescription Tablets can be obtained at all drug stores the world over at the reasonable price of one dollar for a case, or you can secure them direct on receipt of price from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.
